Annually, healthcare organizations across Puget Sound sponsor and staff this FREE career fair-- providing high school students interactive exposure to a variety of healthcare fields and career pathways.

Students rotate between interactive stations (managed by UW Doctor for a Day volunteers) across healthcare fields- nursing, sports medicine, physical therapy, diagnostic imaging & related technology, mental & behavioral health, surgery, lab and research sciences, and more. Healthcare companies and postsecondary institutions also table at SCIH- providing students with information about education and employment opportunities in healthcare.
